

2018-01-26 Thursday Joanna Wójtowicz Marek Connell English notes 1

It comes with the territory.

kuinda pik (conejito de indias)

A short attention span.

My fucking

A Mind-fucking game.

Petal

He loves me, he loves me not.

Downing (desalentador)

Thankless (of a job or task) difficult or unpleasant and not likely to be satisfying or to be appreciated by others.

"being an umpire is a thankless job"

ahead (por delante)

to be saddled with the responsibility of verb+ing +object.

...which country you are in.

in the deck.

in total

Country: China

Person / language Chinese

GDP (gross domestic product) (pib) get blocked myself.

(sometimes) You have to take it on the chin (to accept unpleasant events bravely and without complaining)

I'ma "Baus!" (Boss)
"You da Baus."

To narrow (estrecho) it down. (concretar/ eliminar)

'Y' [why]

With how many (other) countries does your country share borders.

To take +object out for a spin. (dar una vuelta/ estrenar)

What form of government.

Useless (inutil)

To make /take a wild (salvaje) guess (adivinar).

You shouldn't put all your eggs in one basket (cesta).

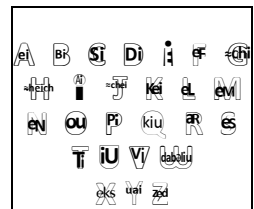

scratch (+object)	Rascar
+object	Rasgar
tear rip +object	off (zerwac)
rip	Engañar
scam	Un timo/ Una estafa
rip off	tzy
tear

Out of you 2 (entre vosotros 2).

5 (marks) out of 10 (5/10) (sobre diez)

What would you give me out of 10?

I did it out of fear. (por)

To jump the gun/bullet: (adelantarse)

The idiom jump the gun has its roots in an athlete starting a race before the starting pistol is fired. It refers to someone or to an act when it is started earlier than expected, or when something is spoken without required thinking.