verb+ing

(something)

While similar, the verbs avoid and prevent are not the same idea. To avoid is to not go near something that is currently happening. To prevent is to stop something from existing or happening altogether.

- prevent = to stop something from happening or someone from doing something:
- avoid = to stay away from someone or something.

However, if you avoid doing something, this can be more or less synonymous with preventing it. Example:

Most workplace accidents can be avoided/prevented with proper safety training.

Think of this use of avoid as metaphorically "dodging" a situation. If you can avoid the conditions where something can happen (or avoid being in that situation at all) you have effectively prevented it from happening

(It's gonna be) all singing and all dancing.

All singing, all dancing is an idiom meaning "full of vitality", or, more recently, "full-featured". It originated with advertisements for the 1929 musical film The Broadway Melody, which proclaimed the film to be "All talking all singing all dancing".

very modern and technically advanced

"She showed us the new all-singing, all-dancing graphics software she'd bought for her computer."
